LIVELY TIME IN PRIMARIES.

Rollap and Henderson Factions Make a Strong Fight—Scrap in the Fifth.

List of Ogden City Delegates—Licensed to Wed—Before Justice Hall—District Court Notes.

The Democratic primaries were held last evening throughout Ogden city and Weber county to elect delegates to the Second Judicial district convention to be held at Farmington on Saturday, June 30, 1900. The primaries throughout the city were well attended and the meetings were very enthusiastic. The primaries seemed to be divided into two factions, one for Hon. B. H. Rolapp for district judge, and the other for Hon. H. J. Henderson for judge, and some lively pulling went on by the two factions, which resulted in the election of the delegates chosen, twelve of them seem to be Henderson supporters while the other eleven are for Rolapp.

The first ward has up to last night been considered a quiet ward, but last evening it took a change and from now on, instead of it being the "bloody second," it will be the "bloody first ward," as a half to choose a chairman. The names of Daniel Hamer and Ben Tarnes were placed before the meeting for chairman on the first ballot the first ward had 25 votes, but on the second vote Tarnes received 38 votes and was declared chairman, and E. E. Stevens was appointed secretary. They proceeded to ballot, which resulted in the election of delegates getting the majority of the votes. At all of the other wards everything seemed to move along quietly excepting at the fifth ward, where a man who was somewhat interested made himself very annoying throughout the entire meeting, and was finally knocked down and received his injuries.

If last night was any indication of the way things are going to be at the election, the people of Weber county may expect some very exciting times, and if the Democratic party is as well as it is divided on election day as it was last night then a Republican victory is very evident.

Following is the list of the delegates elected:

First Ward—William Graham, E. E. Stevens, John Ledwidge and Ben Tarnes.
Second Ward—Martin Cullen, R. S. Jones, Wm. Studer and George W. Jones.
Third Ward—T. D. Dee, Geo. L. Wade, E. R. Christopherson and C. Ingle.

Fourth Ward—Henry Gwilliams, S. F. Whitaker, Eljah Farr, Joe Read, F. R. Christensen and Lorin Farr.
Fifth Ward—Joseph S. Crowfoot, W. W. Brown, H. C. McEwan, J. W. F. Volker and A. McLaren Boyle.
